How to ease into the end of Lockdown

Summer is calling and she's ready for a social life! With the government's announcement to ease England into exiting Lockdown 3.0, we can finally meet up with friends and enjoy summertime in all its glory. After months of staying home and socially distancing from friends and family, summertime calls for a long-awaited party in June and an outside one at that! So, whether you're planning the barbecue of all back-garden events or simply want to chill out in the park, we've hand-picked our favourite outside activities to ease us into the new normal.

Gardening

Spring is just around the corner so its prime time to get your garden or allotment shed in tip-top shape. With a full-colour display, the Majority Eddington Portable Bluetooth DAB+ radio (https://www.majority.co.uk/product/eddington/) is the perfect companion to have with you while you plant a bed of roses. Designed to take on the move the Eddington in-built rechargeable battery is ideal for a busy afternoon growing vegetables. Simply tune in and listen to a wide radio of digital DAB/DAB+ and FM stations or play your own media via Bluetooth connectivity.

A Trip to Park

After months of staying home in our jogging bottoms eating take away, its time to enjoy vitamin sun. More into tanning than triathlons? Switch off the world, rub in the suntan lotion and play the biggest summer hits with the Majority Petersfield (https://www.majority.co.uk/product/petersfield/). Designed for the audio lover on the move, bring your favourite digital and FM stations wherever you go.

With lockdown easing and the sun shining, we predict a return of exercise in public spaces. If the living room workout has put you off exercising inside, embrace the great outdoors with an early morning yoga session or cycling to work. Keep your fitness motivation going with the Majority Petersfield Go (https://www.majority.co.uk/product/petersfield-go/).
